Legislator pledges ed contract help

BY KAY DeBORD
Roman Staff Writer
An area legislator has pledged to help in any way he can to solve the contract troubles between Romulus teachers and the school district which has delayed the opening of school for area students.

State Rep. Edward Mahalak
(D-38th District) told school board members Monday night that the contract "plight" has been brought to the attention of Gov. Milliken.

An overflow crowd including teachers, school administrators and parents attended the Romulus Board of education meeting Monday to seek information on the strike and opening of school.

A ROMULUS RESIDENT,
John Drouillard, asked that board and teacher representatives meet in open debate on their differences and volunteered to set-up such a meeting if both sides would cooperate.

Board President Diane Boger, Trustee Jack Bath and School Supt. Robert L. Mc-Coneghy said they would be willing to attend a meeting.

But Mrs. Boger said board members must refrain from making any statement while contract talks are in mediation according to rules set down by the Labor Relations Board.

A public information meeting sponsored by the (Romulus Education Association) REA was held Monday afternoon at the Romulus Progressive Hall.
Another meeting will be held Friday.

A MEETING OF the board of negotiators and REA representatives is being held today—the first contract meeting since Labor Day.

Earlier attempts to set a meeting day had been held up by the board's insistence that the mediator be present, according to REA spokesmen.

The state-appointed mediator has been busy with contract talks in other districts and has been unable to schedule meetings with the Romulus teams to date, according to the board.

However, at the Monday night meeting, Jim Hart, executive director for the REA said there was "nothing in the statutes that ruled that a mediator had to be present at the negotiating sessions."

According to Peg Ross, in a recent REA release, the main issues separating the board and the teachers are contract language on cause for teacher dismissal; definition of student work stations, such as art, shop, and cosmetology; improvement of fringe benefits, and a salary increase at least equivalent to the cost of living increases this year.

Administration favors plan for fund spending

The Romulus administration favors a "broad based approach to serving the citizens" with the city's $400,000 in revenue sharing funds.

"We'd like to spread the money over many needed services," Mayor Hyle J.
Carmichael said. "I think a broad-based approach to solving the city's needs is more acceptable to the federal government than plunking down in one area while ignoring the others."

"We made these decisions

'We'd like to spread money over services.'

after much study, and hope the city council agrees with our interpretation of the city's needs."

CARMICHAEL RE-LEASED A PLAN WHICH included $71,000 for public safety; with $51,000 in revenue sharing funds for expanded police protection in the city already approved by the council; $5,200 for court equipment and other furnishings, and $15,000 for protective inspections by the city's building department.

Transportation proposals came to $55,000, including $50,000 for the purchase of a road grader for the city's unpaved roads and $5,000 for traffic control equipment.

Some $5,000 of the proposed allocation goes into the health

Judge adds district to forced bus plans

Six additional school districts in Western Wayne County have been added to a metropolitan school integration busing system devised by U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth.

Added to the proposed metro-wide busing plan are Livonia, Romulus, Inkster, Westwood, Van Buren and Flymouth.

Roth's latest busing edict came yesterday when he ordered that all remaining 41 districts in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties—with the exception of the city of Pontiac—be tacked on to his June, 1972 school integration busing order.

IN THE 1972 busing order, Roth included 43 tri-county school districts. The latest court-ordered busing plan now includes all districts within the Western Wayne County area.

While adding the remaining districts to his forced busing plan, the judge also ordered that the Wayne and Oakland intermediate school boards be added to the case.

Appeals before the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court already are underway, and at the Congressional level by U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-15th District) and U.S. Senator
Robert Griffin.

Van Buren Township School
Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz said that he will confer with Attorney John MacDonald about the court's decision.

"I THINK THE inclusion of the Van Buren School District in the school integration battle is a compliance on the part of the U.S. District Court to the ruling of the U.S. Sixth Court of Appeals which ordered Judge Roth to give the 41 school systems an opportunity to be heard in the case," he added.

"I do not believe that the Van Buren School District in the long run will be included in cross-district busing," he said.

He pointed out that the appeals court decision stated that any school district that might be affected by an integration plan "must first be made a party to this litigation and afforded an opportunity to be heard."

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), which initiated the school integration suit in 1970, is not asking that the busing plan be expanded beyond those school systems which were included in Roth's original metropolitan school integration order a year ago, Kaulitz said.

THE NAACP, however has requested Judge Roth to place some "restrictions on the suburban school systems outside the busing area so they will not be able to build new classrooms to attract families from school systems where there is busing.

Romulus School Supt.
Robert L. McConeghy said
Romulus has always been part of the integration plan and that it was not among the districts that joined forces to fight the plan in court.

"However," he added,
"when the time comes, the stand taken by the Romulus Board of Education is that it will do what is necessary to fight the issue.

"We already are an integrated community and as far as ratios are concerned, we almost meet the requirement and that should be our strong point if the matter goes to court."

On football

Enterprise-Roman publishes special

The hopes and aspirations of high school football teams in Western Wayne County will be placed on the line this week with opening of another prep gridiron season.

And to help prepare area football fans with an insight on what to expect from their favorites with the launching of a new season this Friday, The Enterprise-Roman's annual "Football Special" will be included in today's edition.

The 20-page "Football Special" is must reading, and the kind of a gridiron special you'll keep around the house for the entire season.

The special section was edited and written by Sports Editor Tom Mooradian and Sports Writer Dale Gowing.

A BETTER WAY—Workmen of the Thompson McCully paving company of Belleville have been working diligently these past few weeks in an effort to pave more than 12 miles of roads slated for improvement in Romulus in a $600,000 paving program. Workmen were busy on Shook Road near Tobine Road earlier this week, and are expected to complete work on Wick Road west of Shook Road later in the week. Work will continue in a clockwise direction around Metropolitan Airport until the end of next month in an effort to beat the impending cold weather and the end of the construction season. — Romulus

ON PICKET DUTY — Michigan weather has cooperated with teachers in the Romulus Community School District who have been walking the picket line while the Romulus Education Association and the board of education are negotiating. Their signs state their "cause" according to these teachers on duty at Romulus High School. Some 300 teachers are "withholding their services" until the issues are

City council may approve another sheriff road patrol protection unit

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The Romulus City Council is expected to approve the addition of a fourth unit of the Wayne County Road Patrol to the city's police force tomorrow night.

Six members of the city council gave their tentative approval Monday night on spending another $207,000 in public safety to add a fourth car to the city's full-time police force.

'We get excellent service from the Wayne County Sheriff.'

Addition of the unit will bring the city's total police strength of road patrol deputies assigned to Romulus to 32, and insures residents that four cars will be patrolling the 36-square mile community

24-hours a day, seven days a week.

"IT WAS BADLY needed," said one councilman. "I checked with the undersheriff (Loren Pitman, Wayne County Undersheriff), and he said that crime is on the increase all over."

"I asked him if the third unit
we recently added cut down the crime rate he told me 'no,' because crime is increasing as fast as they can get units on the road."

The council gave its approval to adding a third road patrol unit last July. At that time, the addition unit brought the city's total expenditure for police protection to $621,000.

Another addition will cause Romulus to spend $828,000 for public safety.

MAYOR HYLE J. Carmichael was pleased with the council action.

"It is badly needed," he said. "We've had the money for the fourth unit hidden in the budget for sometime now, and it's about time we acted on it."

The mayor was a bit sensitive to criticism of the city's policy to contract out for sheriff road patrol units rather than implementing its own police force.

"People seem to want their own Romulus police force," he said. "I don't know why, because we get excellent service from the Wayne County Sheriff - service that is not reflected in the addition of units to the police protection."

"FOR INSTANCE, we have the full facilities of the sheriff's detective bureau and its crime lab, and there is an understanding between the city and the sheriff that any cars heading for southwestern Wayne County should pass through Romulus on their way to duty."

"That means cars assigned to Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships head through Romulus to and from work with orders to keep their eyes open for anything out of the usual."

Carmichael said that contracting to the sheriff for police protection has added benefits - such as not having to worry about absent patrolmen and time in court for officers.
"It means we have four cars on the road at all times with our man per car in daylight hours and two men during the afternoon and midnight shifts," the mayor said. "There's no holding back cars because one of the patrolmen is sick and no downtime because the officers have to go to court."

Carmichael said that it will take a few weeks for the road patrol to get on the road in Romulus once the city council approves the expenditure of funds.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

How to combat crime, particularly juvenile crime, continues to be a puzzling topic all over the country. Perhaps it is time to take an altogether different approach: to attack the problem before it starts.

Everyone agrees, for example, school children are impressionable. In the same manner that school children are taken to art museums, zoos, etc., perhaps it would help to periodically take classes of children on guided tours through county jails, State and Federal penitentiaries. Let them see first hand how the liberty and freedom of convicts are restricted. Let talented dramatists explain the cost of crime, NOT to society, but to the criminal: how his cost can be life-long. Let it be emotionally told how ex-cons are branded. Jobs are scarce, hard to find for them even in good times. Almost all professions are denied them; licenses to perform in many skills and trades are refused them.

Let it be told the way it is. Harshly. After all, if youngsters of age 18 are considered smart enough to vote, surely they should be smart enough at that or an earlier age to want to stay out of jail for their own good...

Litton promotes former area man

A former Romulus resident has been appointed director of product development at Litton Dental Products, a division of Litton Industries, in Toledo, Ohio. He is Eugene Davis.

Davis directed product development for another dental manufacturer before starting at Litton this year. He was born in Illinois and attended Romulus High School. He was graduated from Michigan Technological University in Houghton in 1956.

Davis is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and a registered professional engineer.

Davis' promotion was termed "a move promoted by today's changing scope and methods of dental treatment," by Litton President Burton C. Borgelt.

"Current changes in dental health care are evident in the shift from individual dental practice to the team approach with emphasis on prevention," Borgelt added.

In his new position, Davis will be responsible for the division's engineering and development activities and will manage the development staff.

Davis will work at the company's plant in Kansas.

House committee studies Civil Defense assistance

A special House committee is studying ways to increase the efficiency of Civil Defense assistance to disaster victims. State Rep. Edward C. Mahalak (D-Romulus) is chairman of the committee.

He said he has been pleased and encouraged by the first two days of recent hearings by the committee.

"I know that I share the feelings of other members of the special committee when I say that I was elated by what was accomplished by these first hearings," Mahalak said. "The committee learned a great deal and heard valuable ideas and suggestions."

Mahalak said that other hearings will be scheduled later.

IN THE FIRST full-day hearing, the committee heard testimony from state Civil Defense coordinators. In the second day, the committee met with coordinators and members of the Civil Defense Association.

The special committee was created by the House upon the request of Mahalak.

He said during recent flood and tornado disasters in several parts of Michigan it became apparent that many people in the disaster areas were unaware of what procedures to follow to obtain immediate Civil Defense equipment and aid.

"It is important," Mahalak said, "that this aid be provided in time of emergency, and provided as quickly as possible."

"UNFORTUNATELY, this always has not been the case. It may be that the procedure is too complicated, or perhaps there is too much red tape involved."

"It is objective of this special committee to attempt to find easier, faster ways to get civil defense aid to disaster victims."

Bicycle tour set

A bicycle tour by enrollees in the adult physical fitness program sponsored by Van Buren Township Recreation Department will be held on Oct. 20.

Program Director Ben R. Robertson said participants in the bike tour will leave for Frankenmuth on that day and while there will tour the area and nearby communities on bikes.

The bike tour will kick off the fall program of the adult physical fitness program and related classes which are held at the Belleville High School gymnasium. This is the third bike tour sponsored by the recreation department.

Romulus Help Center may get city funding

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The Romulus Help Center may be on its way to a comprehensive drug rehabilitation and treatment program following the Romulus City Council's tentative approval of spending $22,000 in both cash and services to qualify for a $90,000 grant from the federal government.

The council met in a special session Monday night to decide whether to spend $6,000 in cash, and to appropriate another $16,000 in cash and services required to meet the grant approved by the federal government last month.

The council gave its tentative approval to spending the initial $6,000 but will decide officially in a regular meeting tomorrow night.

THE TENTATIVE approval came after representatives of the Kelsey Hayes and a social worker from Detroit said there was a desperate need for a comprehensive drug treatment and rehabilitation program in Romulus.

Kelsey representatives said at least 20 employees from their Romulus plant could be sent to the program immediately, and that other referrals would come in the future, if a program was implemented in Romulus.

The social worker from Detroit said at least half of his 66-person caseload of Romulus residents had drug related problems which may be solved by a program to be implemented at the Help Center.

The Romulus Roman carried an exclusive story last week detailing the three part program to be designed by Help Center Director Len Melnick.

MELNICK ENVISIONS a program of drug treatment, drug counseling and crisis counseling which will help solve many of Romulus' drug-related problems.

"We know there are people out there in need of help," he told the Roman last week, "and it has been my experience that as soon as help is available, they'll come."

Melnick said at least 30 Romulus residents are taking part in an Inkster drug treatment program. He expects those 30 will come to the Help Center for treatment and rehabilitation as soon as the program is in operation.

A Romulus City Councilman said the council is in favor of the program "if it helps anyone."

"BUT, IF IT turns out to be another dead where funds are spent on administrative expenses and not on helping people, that's it," he said.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael was in agreement with spending the city funds for the program.

"If it helps one person, it's a success," Carmichael said. "The directors of the Help Center have been working diligently to improve social conditions in Romulus so far, and I see success for them on the horizon with the approval of a fund donation from the city."

Melnick was likewise happy at the council giving its consensus of opinion in favor of the grant.

"WE FEEL THE council is very wisely taking the needs and concerns of the people of Romulus into consideration by giving us the funds," Melnick said. "By their action, the councilmen showed an understanding of their citizens' needs and a willingness to face up to their responsibility to meet those needs."

Earl Lamb, chairman of the Romulus Drug Abuse Commission which set up the Help Center two years ago, said: "We think the grant is great. The funds will give us the opportunity to shape the place up and to set up a security system so we can get the center in operation."

Lamb said the center could be in operation around Oct. 1.

Defendent in suit hears 'nothing' about complaint

BY JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The defendant in a $100,000 libel suit filed by the mayor of Romulus has not yet heard an official word on the complaint filed Aug. 31.

When asked for a comment on the suit, which charges him with having "maliciously contrived to injure plaintiff (Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael) and his good name, fame and credit," Gary Bingamen said: "I haven't heard anything about the suit, except for what was printed in the Romulus Roman."

Bingamen, a candidate for city clerk in the Nov. 6 general election, said he thought the suit "was political in nature."

"I WAS AMAZED to read the story in the paper," he said. "It appeared five days after the suit was filed, and I was not informed."

"Evidently, it's political, because I haven't heard from Mayor Carmichael or his attorney, and they want damages from me for some alleged misdeed."

Bingamen was charged with writing an article in the "Romulus News"—a publication believed to have been put out by members of the Troutt team of election candidates—which was entitled "Mayor Lives It Up On Public Funds."

In one section, Bingamen is quoted as writing: "I am left with some very personal opinions of their (the Carmichael administration's) political shenanigans which could indicate something less than purity."

THE SUIT contends the statement, and others included in the article, were contrived to discredit Carmichael and his slate of incumbent administration candidates.

Bingamen contends the article was intended to question expenditures under examination in a state audit of the 1970-71 city books.

"I was just questioning where the funds spent on such things as parties and liquor went," Bingamen said. "Naturally, I wasn't attempting to do damage, but was intending as a citizen of the community to point out discrepancies in an audit of the city's books."

Bingamen said he will take no action concerning the suit until he is officially notified.

"I HAVEN'T seen a subpoena or a summons to court, so guess I'm not affected by it yet," he added. "If I get some sort of notice, I'll consult with Terry Troutt (Mayor candidate) and some lawyer friends to see what I can do about it, but until then, there's nothing to worry about."

One local lawyer said the suit may never reach trial, even though it's filed in the Wayne County Circuit Court. "It's common practice," said the attorney.

Deaths

Rev. Charles Eldridge, 65, of Romulus, died Sept. 9, Uht Memorial Funeral Home, Westland.

Well-known area resident is dead

"To know Edah Theisen, was to know a saint," said Rev. Albert Firchau of St. John's Lutheran Church in Taylor. And many area residents who knew her would agree.

Mrs. Theisen died Sept. 5 at University Hospital in Ann Arbor. The Romulus resident was 89 and well known in the area because she and her sister, Adah Spear, were active octogenarian twins. Even after Mrs. Adah Spear died in 1969, Mrs. Theisen remained active in the community.

She was a member of a local card club which was formed more than 30 years ago and was known by friends, relatives and neighbors for her interest in gardening, crocheting and homemaking. THE FRATERNAL twins were born May 12, 1884 in Coldwater, the children of The Fisks. They were christened Adah Edah and Edah Adah. They lived in Bay City and since the 1940s lived in Romulus.

Before taking ill in June,

MRS. EDAH THEISEN

Mrs. Theisen lived with her grand nephew, Bryan Killingbeck, of Romulus.

Although Mrs. Theisen went through a lot of pain the last few months, her grand nephew said she still was able to laugh at the end.

"I would like to thank the many kind, thoughtful friends, who, especially in the last few years, helped make her days happy and full of love," he added.

MR. THEISEN, is survived by four children, Mrs. Agnes Erridge, Elmer, Raymond and Gordon; 10 grandchildren; 12 great grandchildren; four great great grandchildren, and a brother, Nelson Fisk of Harper Woods.

Her husband, George, passed away in 1957.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Uht Memorial Funeral Home, 35400 Glenwood Ave., Westland.

Mayor proposes spending of funds

The mayor included $100,000 for the maintenance of public parks and facilities, including private park police protection. ANOTHER $1,000 was appropriated to the public library for construction of shelving for more books.

The mayor proposed to appropriate $145,000 for construction of a new city dog pound building, and furnishings and for paving the parking lot at the Romulus

Department of Public Works building, which is now undergoing renovation.

A final allocation of $18,000 was proposed for the purchase of vehicles authorized by the city council.

Before the money is spent, the Romulus City Council will have to vote on the allocation proposals.

NO DATE has been set for a meeting between the administration and the council.

The proposal for expenditures was drawn up to comply with federal government regulations requiring a detailed list of expenditure proposals to be published before this weekend.

Stewart pledges alliance

Romulus City Councilman James C. Stewart has pledged to remain an independent candidate in the upcoming Nov. 6 general election.

A veteran of three years on the city council, along with several terms on the Romulus Township Board of Trustees, Stewart said: "I believe I have served the citizens as a public official and thus, the citizens know my record, my decisions and actions which always have reflected my personal beliefs and judgment."

"I have only one political alliance, and that is to the people of Romulus."

"I CAMPAIGNED and won as an independent in the city primary, and for the citizens' support, I am convinced they endorse this point of view."

Stewart finished 10th in the 14-person field which will be vying for seven spots on the Romulus City Council this November. He polled 901 votes - 341 votes behind the top vote-getter in the election.

Only three of the top 14 finishers in the election ran as independents last August. Two, McAnally and Dolores Restow, have joined slates being run by mayoral candidates in the Nov. 6 general election.

One other candidate incumbent Jimmie C. Raspberry, who finishes seventh in August in election, will run independently after having his three running-mates finishing well out of contention in the balloting.

STEWART SAID independence is an asset to a councilman.

"From my years of experience in public office, in this community, I know that it is best for good local government to have some independence and freedom of action when acting on the business of the city," he said. "By having a largely independent council, the city is insured of a broad base of input from seven strong councilmen."

Political 'identity' threatened

State's 'open primary' system is defended

By DON HOENSHELL
Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Political protocol and the suspicion of tokenism raised twin barriers in the legislature to quick acceptance to reforms offered jointly by Republican and Democratic leaders.

The historic agreement between the parties was scarcely dry when the brickbats started flying.

Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne, R-Manistee, the GOP floor leader in the House, said the proposed closed primary would disenfranchise the large body of independent voters in Michigan.

He was followed by Rep. Lauren D. Anderson, R-Waterford, who charged that the proposals are just enough to make the outraged electorate believe reform is on the way, but does nothing about financing.

DEMOCRATS FEAR that it means the party is trying to step between them and their constituents.

And most legislators of both parties are suffering bent noses because the package was negotiated by organizational leaders without consulting the people who will have to vote on them.

Democratic State Chairman Morley Winograd and Republican State Chairman William F. McLaughlin both said they had briefed their tigers in the legislature before taking the package into a press conference.

Both said they will be getting into campaign financing later but lawmakers said this facet of reform is so overriding that it should be handled first.

"LET'S GET into this thing and deal with the nitty gritty problem of financing," said Anderson.

Anderson sees a growing political chasm between the people and the politicians and charges that the reforms on the table do nothing to improve matters.

"I don't see any alternative to getting into the financing thing, to legislating honesty and integrity if we have to do it," he said.

"There's a big difference right now between the promise and the performance, between the (political) brochure and the facts."

ANDERSON PROPOSED that no candidate be allowed to receive or spend cash on his campaign, that only checks and other traceable documents be used — and an accurate pre-election report be issued.

"Let's find out who's pulling the strings, let's lay it out for people so they will know who's supporting whom and who's buying what."

The joint package now contains a closed primary, requiring all voters to identify themselves with a party; appointment of the new-elective State Board of Education, more voting machines in the precincts, changes in the filling of Michigan Supreme Court seats.

Cawthorne zeroed in on the proposed closed primary, charging it would require voters to identify their party or not vote. He said it would reduce citizen participation in politics.

"THIS WOULD make political decision-making even less accessible to the average person at the time when disillusionment with the political system is reaching a new high," he said. "The present system (open primary) should not be overthrown because of a single example extracted from 35 years of otherwise satisfactory experience with the open primary system."

He referred to the May 16, 1972 presidential primary in which Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace ran as a Democrat and won 51 per cent of the vote, with the help of Republican crossovers.

Figures used in 1970 by Gov. William G. Milliken state that Michigan's political structure is 45 per cent Democratic, 25 per cent Republican and 30 per cent independent.

If the figures still hold, a closed primary would favor the Democrats.

But even with arm-linking at the top of the parties, the reforms face a rough time in the legislature.

'...would reduce citizen participation in politics.'

No time for muckraking

Non-partisan voting prevails in Romulus

In less than two months voting citizens in Romulus and Belleville will go to the polls for general municipal elections in their respective communities.

The heated two slate race in Romulus continues to erupt each week with charges and counter-charges, threatened law suits, state investigations—and some mud-slinging.

While over in Belleville, the race will begin to take form next week when filing deadline comes to pass. We hope the campaigners in Belleville stay clear of the tactics now being witnessed in Romulus. There are enough legitimate issues for the candidates to pursue in their bids for public office.

In a recent Detroit newspaper story, it was falsely reported that Romulus operates under a partisan form of government. Since attaining city status, Romulus has been operating under a non-partisan system of local government.

But it appears some back-alley strategists are attempting to inject partisan politics into the Romulus campaign—and such tactics should be rejected by the conscientious men and women of Romulus who care for the future of their community.

Meanwhile, unwarranted charges are clouding the real issues in Romulus' upcoming city election. Romulus can ill-afford to get bogged down in the issues of the past—and the revival of personality clashes from the past.

The Enterprise-Roman serves no candidate nor slate. As was stated earlier, this newspaper only serves the men, women and children of Romulus. Hopefully, on election day in November, qualified candidates will be seated in office.

And in the weeks ahead, various service-minded organizations will be sponsoring candidate rallies. One such group is Romulus Jaycees unit, a dedicated organization of young men between the ages of 18 and 35 who have a stake in the future of "their hometown."

The Jaycees' candidate night rally will be held Oct. 29 at Romulus High School. We urge all citizens to attend and to judge the merits, platforms and promises of each candidate.

Romulus must elect the best...if she is to progress for the good of all its citizens. The decision rests with an informed, independent thinking electorate.

An annual 'event'

The strike dilemma haunts our schools

The law clearly defines that a strike by public employees is a violation—and illegal, yet several area school districts find themselves embroiled in strikes, or the threat of strikes.

And each year, when its school time—some schools fail to open because of work strikes brought about by stalemated contract talks.

Depending which side bends your ear, each has sound footing for taking their positions—but it's getting out of hand.

Part of the problem centers in on year-to-year contracts.

Some districts have contracts with their respective school employee unions on two and three-year formulas—similar to the automotive industry. We suggest this be the format for all school districts—in Western Wayne County and across the state.

Students and parents are getting a bit tired of having to face yearly strikes—at the time school should be opening for the fall semester.

We've heard a lot about school reform, fiscal reform, quality education via forced busing—but little trickles down from Lansing on teacher-board bargaining reform.

And unless this most perplexing question is resolved in the days and immediate years ahead, then those who preach "one statewide school district" might come home the winner and that's when everyone loses.

U.S. Chamber official says:

Liberals are first to deny speech freedoms

By ARCH BOOTH
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON — Whenever Vice President Agnew expresses his personal opinion about the fairness and objectivity of the news media, there are loud howls of outrage and charges of attempted intimidation from what might loosely be termed the "liberal establishment."

It's interesting to note, therefore, that some of the noisiest members of that "liberal establishment" are currently doing their damndest to intimidate any network executives who believe their listeners are entitled to hear the National Chamber's point of view on economic issues.

Six congresspersons — including the flamboyant Bella Abzug — have written a joint letter to the three television network presidents demanding that they not use Chamber-produced public service announcements on the subject of environmental protection.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that raised their ire begins with a cartoon character named Leonard, who goes into business cleaning up litter and trash. That helps the environment. But he burns the litter, causing smoke pollution. People complain. So he builds a complicated contraption to eliminate the smoke, unintentionally creating a neighborhood eyesore.

The moral is clear enough: Be careful when trying to solve environmental problems not to create new ones in the process.

Then in the second part of the spot, yours truly comes on with the following message: "Sometimes it does seem that you just can't win. This is all the more reason to approach pollution problems with care. Clean air, land and water are vital to all of us.

'...are people entitled to hear all points of view on a controversial issue?'

"But so are jobs, food, clothing and housing. We have to weigh the total impact on the environment along with the economic and social costs in order to clean up.

"PERSISTENCE AND wisdom will achieve more enduring progress in our struggle for a better world."

Now that you know what's in the announcement, you might be interested to hear how it is described by Representatives

Rosenthal (D-N.Y.), Conyers (D-Mich.), Edwards (D-Calif.), Harrington (D-Mass.), Abzug (D-N.Y.) and Badillo (D-N.Y.).

"A slanted, business-oriented view of the trade-offs between environmental and economic needs..." they say.

"Its message is that environmental protection laws should not be enforced against business polluters when a loss of jobs could result..." they say.

REP. ROSENTHAL even went so far as to insist "that free air time should not be made available to special interest business groups for the presentation of biased views on controversial issues of national importance." Which leaves me wondering what makes an issue "controversial," if not the existence of differing viewpoints.

The representative's letter also contained slighting references to the Chamber's "big business constituency" — an argument ad hominem. For the record, we are a non-profit organization with a membership which includes businesses of all sizes, individuals, and other non-profit organizations. Over 85 per cent of our business members employ 25 or fewer people.

But our motives and our membership are really not the point. The question is, are people entitled to hear all points of view on a controversial issue, or only those points of view approved by some pressure group or government official?

IS THIS ATTEMPTED intimidation having any effect? Yes, I'm sad to report that it is. One network which ordered some special "prints" of the message — at some expense to us — has now returned them. Another network has taken steps to prevent the local stations it owns from using the spots, in addition to keeping them off the network itself. The third network — as far as we know — never had any plans to use them.

Individual local stations, on the other hand, have proven far harder to intimidate. They often use our material, and, I have no doubt, other material with which we would disagree. Fine. That's the way it should be.

As for Rep. Rosenthal, et al, I recommend to them a line from Thomas Jefferson's First Inaugural Address: "Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it."

Defends MEA's new look

To the Editor: Your editorial concerning the MEA (Michigan Education Association) last week is a good example of hurried, cursory writing.

When I came out of college more than 30 years ago glowing with professionalism and filled with zeal, determined to make my mark in education, I joined the MEA. The MEA Journal, I found, was stuffy, non-relevant and the MEA itself seemed controlled by administrators. The Belleville schools for many years were 100 per cent MEA, a requirement. Several times my refusal to join was met with pressure and I capitulated each time. I felt it was a company union.

As the years went by there came a time of reckoning when a group of us teachers vowed we would make a change. This was in the late 1940's when I was earning $3,200 a year, buying a home, and had a wife and two children. These were the same years that the school board was transferring $50,000 a year from the general fund to a building and site fund. This group of teachers including myself, asked the MEA for support in seeking some improvement of our salaries, to get us out of moonlighting. We saw the MEA representative, the county superintendent of schools, and our superintendent go behind closed doors, and a half hour or so later the MEA man came out and came into our teachers meeting. In effect he told us "cool it" there was nothing he would do, and the MEA would not support us in any action we took.

One of our teachers from that group became active in the MEA and worked his way up in the organization to headquarters in Lansing, and later became associated with what is now HEW in Washington. Another group of us started a local chapter of the AFT (American Federation of Teachers) at Belleville and broke the MEA compulsion.

Because this kind of reaction was experienced in many schools throughout Michigan the MEA has changed. Today it is teacher controlled, it is responsive to teacher needs, and its professionalism today is honest and superior to the farce it once promoted.

I am not an MEA member and have not been for many years, but have been a member of the AFT over those years. It should be evident that I am not defending the MEA, just trying to set the record straight.

But then, your editorial writer couldn't really know. It takes years of the real nitty-gritty being ground into your system to feel it like it is.

When streets were 'safe' for walking

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Editor

In a recent survey of his constituents in the 15th district, Congressman William D. Ford learned that 44 percent of those who responded to his questioning listed crime and drugs as the chief menace to our way of life.

"It is obvious that my constituents see the drug menace and street crime as a joint problem, and a major problem—an analysis I agree with," Ford related to this newspaper.

While much has been said and written about the crime problem in this richest free society in the world, I'd like to share some thoughts on the crime dilemma.

DURING THE LABOR DAY weekend I spent three wonderful days in Toronto, some 240 miles east of Windsor—a city famous for hockey and hospitality.

I heard from others about the dynamic growth of Toronto as the fastest growing city in North America, and its cultural mood.

What impressed me the most about Toronto was the apparent friendly atmosphere and the safe feeling when walking the streets of the city's crowded downtown business section.

And in a way, the safe feeling reminded me of the days gone by when that same feeling prevailed walking down Woodward Avenue after a movie date—then walking several blocks to the old Ginger Ale plant at the foot of the Detroit River to treat your date to a five cents soft-drink.

AND ALONG THE way you could window shop. In those days the windows were free of steel bars to thwart break-ins.

Those days are long gone, not only in Detroit and other major cities in our land—but now a slow inching threat to suburbia.

At the franchise type eating places in Toronto I didn't see one security officer—the same code prevailed at major shopping centers markets.

In a way I was envious of the Canadians of Toronto—envious of their ability to move about in Ontario's central city with no fear of street crime.

AND BACK HERE across the friendliest international border in the world, stores and businesses are forced to bar their windows—and hire security officers to keep the peace and to assure customers of their safety while shopping.

Even more disturbing is the mis-guided belief that crime is a central city problem—that it does not exist in suburbia. Just visit the local police station and you'll see the men in blue working around the clock to preserve the peace.

As for the drug menace, that too is not a menace solely the property of the central city. The use of drugs has found its way into suburbia and even more damaging—into the hands of unsuspecting young persons still in school.

AND IN THESE TRYING times it is most difficult for a parent to preach about morality, law and order, honesty, and the threat of dangerous drugs—but we must not repeat what some of my fellow adult friends declare: "You're out of step...times are changing and people want individual freedom to do as they please, etc..."

The kind of freedom concerned Americans want is freedom from fear, freedom from corruption in government, freedom from a slanted news media, and moreso—freedom from the peddlers of despair who sell mind crippling drugs to our young unsuspecting Americans.

Those three days in Toronto were refreshing, yet it's always a good feeling when you're back across the Ambassador Bridge. Let's say I have faith in the future and in the young people of this land who want to preserve it for children—and my grandchildren.

And as Congressman Ford stated: "We must work to restore the American people's badly shattered faith..."

Motorists cautioned to avoid freeway tieups

Motorists should avoid a 21-mile section of I-75 between US-23 and Birch Run Monday to Friday through late November because of a massive construction project which already has caused major traffic problems in the Flint area, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. The project — which involves widening the freeway from two to three lanes in both directions — is part of a larger construction program designed to make I-75 three lanes from the Ohio line to just north of Bay City. Completion of the entire project, including building a new bridge to carry the freeway over the Saginaw River near Zilwaukee, is set for 1978. The Flint area widening project will be finished late this November. "RECENT FREEWAY construction at Flint has caused up to one-hour weekday delays for motorists traveling through the area via I-75," states Joseph L. Ratke, Auto Club touring manager. "With the paving portion of the project set for mid-June, similar tie-ups can be expected."

To aid motorists in getting around the Flint construction zone, which will have at least one lane closed during working hours, Auto Club recommends three alternate routes that are longer, but free of highway work.

"Travelers should consider using the alternate routes weekdays only since construction is suspended during the 2 to 6 p.m. weekday rush hour and throughout the weekend," advises Ratke.

"BESIDES THE 2 to 6 p.m. rush hour, all freeway lanes will be open noon Friday until Monday morning for northbound traffic and 2 p.m. Friday to noon Monday for southbound travel," Ratke explains.

Auto Club's suggested I-75 alternate routes around Flint include:

— For Southeast Michigan motorists traveling to destinations north of Clair, take I-96 (Lodge freeway in Detroit) to I-496 at Lansing, connecting with US-27 north and rejoining the freeway at Clare. This adds 11 miles and approximately 20 minutes traveling time compared with the normal I-75 route between Detroit and Clare.

— FOR MOTORISTS traveling between Southeast Michigan and Saginaw, Bay City or East Michigan, exit I-75 at Clarkston, take M-15 north to either westbound M-46 near Saginaw or M-25 near Bay City and rejoin the freeway. This adds 2½ miles and about 20 minutes between Detroit and Saginaw via the regular I-75 route.

— For motorists traveling between Southeast Michigan and Flint, exit I-75 at Grand Blanc and take M-54 to Flint. This is 2 miles shorter but adds about 10 minutes to the regular I-75 route.

Alternate routes suggested by Auto Club are not signed as detours by the Department of State Highways.

"IF MOTORISTS decide to use these alternate routes, they should plan their trip in advance so as not to become confused by unfamiliar territory," states Ratke.

Contracts will be let late this summer on freeway widening work between Birch Run and Bay City with most of the nearly 22-mile project expected to be finished in late 1974. The only exception is the new bridge to replace the Zilwaukee Drawbridge, which is scheduled for completion in 1978.

When completed, the additional freeway lane and new bridge will help motorists travel faster and safer through an area which in recent years has become Michigan's biggest traffic safety hazard.

Auto Club's Holiday and Weekend News Services have continually pointed out that the I-75 freeway between Flint and Saginaw must be upgraded to meet growing traffic demands.

Recent traffic tie-ups included a 22-mile backup of cars at Flint earlier in May when both northbound freeway lanes were closed periodically because of work on the Flint River Bridge.

Water, sewer commission resets meet

Van Buren Township Water and Sewer Commission will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The commission meets on the first Monday of each month but the observance of Labor Day, prompted the postponement of the meeting to Sept. 17.

Township issues 15 violations

Van Buren Township's Ordinance Department has issued 15 ordinance violations tickets in a 10-day period ended Sept. 6, according to Gene Bracken, ordinance officer.

In addition the department issued two warrant requests and checked on numerous complaints during the same period.

BICYCLE LAWS — Do you ride a bicycle with traffic or against it? Michigan's law that says bicyclists must ride as close to the right side of the street as possible is often misunderstood, according to Garnet Griffin, director of the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit. "Riding close to the right side (below) means that bicyclists travel with traffic, he said. "This is the most misunderstood bicycle law in Detroit and Michigan." "Don't let anyone tell you that you should ride against traffic (above), he said. "It's a common misconception that started years ago and too many people still accept it."

NOTICE OF HEARING ON A CONSERVATION PROGRAM INVOLVING GAS RATE SCHEDULES

On August 21, 1973, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for approval of a program for the conservation of natural gas by means of promoting insulation of residences heated by natural gas. (Case No. U-4404.)

The application states that large numbers of the Company's residential space heating customers reside in older houses which do not have insulation meeting current standards established by the Federal Housing Administration. A study by the Company indicates that installation of 6 inches of ceiling insulation in a typical two-story, uninsulated house built in Detroit prior to 1940 would reduce the quantity of natural gas used for heating by about 17 percent; and that addition of 4½ inches of ceiling insulation in a typical two-story house built in the Detroit area after 1940 with 1½ inches of ceiling insulation would reduce the quantity of natural gas used for heating by about 10 percent.

The application states that in view of the critical current shortage of natural gas and other forms of energy in Michigan and throughout the country, conservation of natural gas used for residential space heating is in the public interest and in the interest of Michigan Consolidated's customers. The program which Michigan Consolidated proposes for promoting insulation would include a major effort to communicate to the public the need for conservation of natural gas and the contribution which home insulation can make to that goal. The Company would employ advertising in press, radio, and television together with direct mail to customers and use of its outdoor signs and the message boards carried by its vehicles. It would prepare brochures and make them available through its offices and through insulation contractors.

The Company would urge homeowners to install insulation themselves or to hire a contractor to do so. The Company would also offer, on a non-profit basis to the Company, to arrange for the installation, in residential premises owned by any qualified residential space heating customer, of ceiling insulation meeting the most recent FHA standard. A residential space heating customer would qualify for the program if he is not in arrears in payment of his gas bill. Where the Company thus arranged for installation, it would finance up to 80 percent of the cost of the insulation over a period of up to 36 months, at an interest rate of 1 percent per month on unpaid balance. The Company would not itself sell insulation or install insulation, but would subcontract the work to dealers and contractors.

The application asks the Michigan Public Service Commission pursuant to Section 63 of 1969 PA 306 (MCLA 24.263) to issue its ruling declaring that the proposed program is a utility function within the scope of the service rendered by Michigan Consolidated as a public utility; and that the cost thereof is a proper charge to utility cost of service, to be reflected in rates hereafter prescribed for Michigan Consolidated. The application further asks the Commission pursuant to Section 7 of 1919 PA 419 (MCLA 460.57) to approve amendments to the Company's Schedule of Rates, Regulations and Rates for Gas Service (MPSC No. 3). Under the proposed amendments payments owed the Company for installation of insulation would become part of the charge for residential space heating gas service rendered to the insulated premises; and the cost of such installation, if not paid for by the residential space heating customer who contracted for the work, would be charged to successor customers at the insulated premises at the rate of $5 per month.

A public hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m., on September 24, 1973, and continue on September 25, 1973, commencing at 9:30 a.m., if necessary, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of determining whether the rulings and approvals sought should be granted. Any interested parties may attend the hearing and participate subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Grace Baptist Church chosen for wedding

After traveling through lower Michigan and Ohio on a week-long honeymoon, the newlywed Robert L. Howells made their home at 201 Henry Street, Apt. 104, Belleville.

Mary E. Betsinger became Mrs. Howells in a six o'clock ceremony read at the Grace Baptist Church in Belleville by the Rev. William Gram. For the August 4 nuptials, Cheryl Calvery was at the organ to play traditional bridal selections.

The double ring rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Betsinger of 4637 Ecorse Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale T. Howell of 10440 Whittaker Road, Ypsilanti.

ENTERING THE church with her father, the bride was gown in a creation of Chantilly lace and organza, the bouffant skirt being formed of tiers of the material and extending to a chapel train. The little fitted bodice featured a high, ruffled lace neckline and long, puffed sleeves with satin ribbon accenting the wrists and waistline.

Chantilly lace also edged her eight-foot mantilla veil which was caught to a satin bow. A teardrop arrangement of white roses, baby's breath and lilies of the valley completed her bridal ensemble.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK WISNIEWSKI

Vickie L. Green of Belleville was her best friend's maid of honor. Her dress was styled with a white bodice trimmed with violet flowered ribbon around the neck, wrists and square neckline. Her violet chiffon skirt matched the hat she wore and the bouquet of carnations which she carried.

Bridesmaids in identically-fashioned frocks were Toni Palozzola of Belleville in pink; Donna Wilson, the bridegroom's sister from Riverview in blue; and Shirley Betsinger, the bride's sister-in-law from Pinckney, wearing green. The trio's dresses matched the color of the shirts worn by their escorts.

BEST MAN was Wayne Cooley of Belleville. Groomsmen were Russ Parks of Belleville; Bob Wilson of Riverview, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Dale Betsinger of Belleville, brother of the bride.

Six-year old Earnie Haydon, son of the Charles Haydons, carried out the role of ringbearer. Shelly Betsinger, the six-year old daughter of the Jim Betsingers, served as flowergirl. Her little yellow frock matched those worn by the senior attendants.

Local No. 735 of Belleville was reserved for the reception which followed. The 300 guests were greeted by the bride's mother in a formal gown of aqua crepe with long lace sleeves. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a floor-length gown styled with a flowered bodice and blue skirt. Both wore corsages of carnations tipped to match their outfits.

A 1972 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Howells is employed at Hydramatic Willow Run Plant. Her husband attended Belleville and Lincoln High Schools and also served with the U.S. Army. He is an employee of Draw-Tite in Belleville.

Honolulu to be 'home' for newly wed Rahe

St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston was reserved September 8 for the double ring rite which united Virginia Mae Kuboff and Robert Leo Rahe in holy wedlock. Their vows were repeated before the Rev. Alexander Wytrawl at five in the afternoon with some 250 relatives and friends in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kuboff of 18700 Huron River Drive, New Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rahe of 924 Hartford Place, St. Charles, Missouri are parents of the young couple.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Virginia appeared in a toe-touching gown patterned in the A-line mode with a shirred bodice and long sleeves, both accented with daisy lace.

A NYLON PETAELED headpiece secured her floor-length veil and a cascade of six white orchids and baby's breath comprised her bridal bouquet.

The trio of attendants was gown in orchid A-line creations styled with empire waistlines, long sleeves, and high necklines with deep purple lace trim.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Christopher (Beatrice) Ptaszynski of New Boston, was distinguished by her headdress which was made with a deep purple Juliet cap and pale orchid veil and her bouquet which was made up of white carnations and purple asters.

Bridesmaids, wearing orchid veils and carrying bouquets of white carnations and lavender asters, were Mary Ann Kuboff, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Mark (Bernice) Bilger of Lambertville.

The bridegroom was assisted by Christopher Ptaszynski of New Boston, the best man. Others on the esquire side were George Kuboff Jr. of New Boston;

Kenneth Rahe Jr.; Donald Rahe and Timothy Rahe, of St. Charles, Missouri all brothers of the bridal pair.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kuboff selected a pale pink A-line formal to which she pinned her corsage of white sweetheart rosebuds and a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother donned a full-skirted gown of pink polyester, also in formal length.

Her corsage was a white orchid accented with lily of the valley.

Following their reception at the Carrawee Ballroom in Flat Rock, the newlywed Rahe's traveled to Honolulu, Hawaii which will be their home for the next three years.

A member of the U.S. army, the bridegroom is a data analyst at Fort Shafter. After graduating in 1970 from St. Charles High School, he attended Data Processing School in St. Charles and at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana.

The new Mrs. Rahe was valedictorian of her 1969 Huron High graduating class. She graduated suma cum laude in 1971 from Monroe County Community College.

Reception marks 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wisniewski and Agnes and Bob Cook. Some 200 guests observed their 40th wedding anniversary August 26 beginning with the renewal of their marriage vows at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston, the site of their wedding on September 2, 1933.

The P.N.A. Lodge was reserved for the two o'clock reception hosted by the couple's three children and their spouses: Virginia and Chuck Miller, Stanley and Sue Wisniewski and Agnes and Bob Cook. Some 200 guests congratulated the 'ruby year' celebrants and enjoyed reminiscing over photographs taken since their marriage.

Carrying out the ruby theme of the day, the dining room was decorated with red gladiolas and white wedding bells. The main table featured a five-tiered wedding cake accented with red roses.

Music for the happy occasion was provided by cousins of the couple, the Wisniewski Polka Trio.

For the gala event, Mrs. Wisniewski wore a floor-length pink gown with the bodice and sleeves detailed in silver lace.

Her granddaughters, Bev and Valerie Miller, Lynne and Marybeth Wisniewski and Connie and Carrie Cook, copied their grandmother's attire by also wearing floor-length frocks.

Assisting their grandfather throughout the day were Mike and Richie Miller, Frankie and Matthew Wisniewski and David and Mark Cook.

Scout leadership taking new trend

Your daughter's future Girl Scout leader may not be a middle-aged mother, or even a mother at all, it was noted today by Mrs. Louis Galan, president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

The trend among new Girl Scout leaders during the past two years has been for young working women, both single and married but usually childless, to volunteer in increasing numbers. Today throughout the Council area that includes Washtenaw, Livingston, Western Wayne and Northern Monroe counties, over 75 Girl Scout leaders are in this category, about one out of eight.

"These young women tell us that they feel a special kinship with girls just a little younger than themselves," Mrs. Galan said. "They want to help broaden the horizons of these girls by acquainting them with their lives as young careerists, and we think it's just great."

Another group of these young leaders want to work with handicapped children. Typical of this group is Carol Vick of 3835 Greenview in Ann Arbor. Miss Vick, age 23, is a respiratory therapist at the University of Michigan Hospital. Every Saturday morning she travels to Wayne to become a Girl Scout leader for Junior troop 263.

Miss Vick's troop happens to be composed of a dozen physically handicapped youngsters, both boys and girls, age 7 to 11. Just like all Girl Scout troops, Troop 263 is member-directed in the sense that the boys and girls themselves plan and carry out their projects. This fall they will be designing their own merit badges. Ultimately it is hoped that the confidence gained in Miss Vick's troop will lead the youngsters to join Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops of normal children. This is the pattern in the Huron Valley Council, where over 20 troops have members with physically handicapped members.

Young working adults, as well as fathers, retirees, and college students are currently being sought by the Huron Valley Council to serve as Girl Scout leaders, helpers and resource people. Interested individuals should call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council office at 483-2370.

Jaycee Auxiliary dines in South Seas setting

Members of the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary "transported" some 96 people to the South Sea Islands on August 25 as they held their annual summer luau. The Morgan Manor Club House in Romulus was the site for the outdoor dinner served by Martin Catering. Members, their husbands and guests sat on the torch-lighted lawn as they sampled 33 different Island dishes including two-finger poi, Hawaiian meatballs and Polynesian chicken which was cooked over an open pit.

Following dinner, the group moved indoors where the main wall was centered with the greeting "aloha", formed from huge multi-colored papier mache flowers which the Auxiliary had made.

Fish netting, shells, star fish, travel posters and stylized palm trees set the mood for the ice-breaker and dancing which filled the remainder of the evening.

Chairing the successful event was Kathy Whalen whose subchairs included Lois Van Stipdonk, tickets; Marlene Pawelak, beverages; and Libby McNett, decorations. A nostalgic touch was also added by playing the chairman's old record albums from the 50's and 60's which brought back many a memory for the group.

Not for babies

The American Academy of Pediatrics suggests that mothers not substitute imitation milk (coffee whiteners included) for whole milk in babies diets. Imitation milk is inferior to whole milk in protein, vitamin and mineral content.

Health vs. natural

Surprisingly, a patron of a health foods establishment would be out of his element in a natural foods store. Health foods stores generally employ older ladies, dressed in white uniforms, whose main concern in the sterile surroundings is the customer's physical well-being.

Whereas, employees of natural food stores not only cater to the customer's appetite for organic edibles, but they also feed the souls of the supermarket counter-culture with relaxed chatter in the homey, atmosphere of a usually disorganized shop.

Shoppers have big milk choice

Just from visiting the dairy case at the supermarket, you know that a shopper can choose from milk in several forms. But did you realize that there are this many?

Whole Fresh Fluid Milk—Whole milk is defined in many states as milk that contains not less than 3.25 percent milk fat and not less than 8.25 percent milk solids-non-fat. Most of the whole fluid milk sold in the United States is pasteurized and homogenized.

Raw Milk—Milk that receives no heat treatment is called raw milk.

Certified Milk—Since 1893, certification on the container has meant that conditions under which the milk was produced and distributed conform with the high standards for cleanliness established by the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions.

This milk may be raw or pasteurized. It may be homogenized and vitamin D fortified.

Fortified Milks—These contain added amounts of one or more of the essential nutrients usually found in milk.

Concentrated Milks—Fresh, frozen, evaporated, condensed, and dried milks are in this category. Water from the milk is removed under carefully controlled conditions of heat and vacuum. The milk is reconstituted by restoring the water.

Skim Milk—Fat is removed from whole milk by centrifugation to produce skim milk. The resulting fat content is usually 0.1 percent, although it may vary slightly. States set their standards, which vary from 8.0 to 9.25 percent as the minimum for total solids in skim milk. The product is pasteurized.

Two Per Cent Milk—This milk is named for the fact that it contains 2 percent milk fat. It is pasteurized and homogenized, and made from both fresh whole milk and skim milk. It may be enriched by adding milk solids-non-fat and various vitamins and mineral preparations.

Cultured Milks—Prepared from pasteurized or sterilized

Cottage Cheese Omelet

1 can (8 oz.) stewed tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
Dash of pepper

4 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
Dash of pepper
1/4 cup nonfat milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
One-third cup skim milk cottage cheese
Two-thirds cup Post Grape-Nuts Brand Cereal

Heat tomatoes in a saucepan. Break up with fork. Season with 1/4 teaspoon onion salt and dash of pepper. Cover and keep hot while omelet is cooking.

Combine eggs, 1/2 teaspoon onion salt, dash of pepper, and nonfat milk; mix well. Melt butter in a skillet. Add egg mixture and cook over low heat. As omelet cooks, loosen edges gently with a spatula so that uncooked egg runs to the bottom. When mixture is almost set, spoon cottage cheese over top. Sprinkle with cereal. Loosen omelet around the sides and crease across the center with a spatula. Fold gently in half and slide onto a warm platter. Top with hot tomato mixture. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings — about 206 calories per serving.

Klines are back from six weeks tour

BACK IN TOWN after an absence of six weeks are the Klines — Charles and Lucy and their two children, Glenn and Cheryl — of Cherry Avenue, Romulus. Driving cross country (with Southern California as their target), the foursome passed through the states of Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Nevada.

Included in their itinerary of sight-seeing were Pioneer Village in Jamestown, N.D., the Badlands, Jewel Caves and Bedrock City in South Dakota; and Custer Memorial in Montana where they viewed the yearly re-enactment by the Indians of Custer's Last Stand.

In Wyoming they visited Ft. Phil Kearney (the site of the Fetterman Massacre) and, of course, Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons.

Highlights of their four weeks in their 'old home' area of Southern Cal included visits with friends and relatives they hadn't seen in the past five years. Then, too, there were trips to the L.A. Zoo, Busch Gardens, Marineland of the Pacific, African Safari, Japanese Village and Deer Gardens and, naturally, Disneyland.

Before returning via the southern route home, the Klines were able to attend a niece's wedding in Anaheim and a nephew's Bar Mitzvah in Las Vegas.

Hooked? You might do yourself in! Spaced out? Get off that cloud, man . . . it's not cloud nine. Up and down? Get things together. Why? Because drugs are a bummer. If they don't snuff you out they'll make your life topsy-turvy — turn you into a big nothing. It's like this . . . life and drugs don't mix! Education, travel, good times and a family can someday be yours when you play it straight. Set up goals and work at achievement — it's the best way of life.

Edgemont parents get info brochure

"My Book" is the title of a seven-page informational brochure currently being distributed to parents of kindergarten pupils attending the Edgemont Elementary School, 124 Edgemont St., Belleville.

The book was prepared by Mrs. Carol Haveranek, of 11595 DeWitt St., Belleville, a kindergarten teacher at the school and a member of the Van Buren Public School System for several years.

The front cover of the book, which was a drawing by a five-year-old, lists three sought-after goals:

—The encouragement of self-confidence, spontaneity, curiosity and self-disciplines which will assist in the development of the child's social and emotional health.

—The enhancement of the child's mental processes and skills with particular attention to conceptual and verbal skills.

—The establishment of pattern and expectations of success for the child, which will create a climate of confidence for his present and future learning efforts and overall development.

Program methods involving conceptual communication, social and motor skills for the pupils are detailed in the book.

In Boyne Country

'Ideal' golf package offered

Where in the world does a serious golfer, seeking quality courses, go when the blaze of summer sun bakes the Southern championship courses?

Spain? Hot, too. And far. To a public metropolitan course? Who likes to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning to tee off at 9 a.m. into a crowd?

HOW ABOUT the old reliable country club? Great — if you're an old reliable member who's not tired of knowing how to play every tree, shrub or blade of grass. What the golf world needs is an air-conditioned, championship golf course with enough tee times for everyone.

And that's what Boyne Country in the northwestern tip of Michigan offers...naturally air-conditioned golf courses.

There are 72 holes of golf from the first of May to the first of November, backdropped by two hotels.

WHILE THE AREA had been noted for 25 years as mid-America's skiing mecca, some 10 years ago Everett Kircher, Boyne Country's owner-developer-president, recognized that golf was growing at a faster rate than skiing. Thus, he has turned his skiing-business know-how — almost 20,000 acres — ingenuity, plus years of resort and recreation management, toward making Boyne Country a golfing experience.

Kircher's ski maintenance crews apply the same principles and techniques to manicuring the fine, Penn-cross bent grass used on greens, fairways and tees alike. The same compressors pump, the same water winter and summer, to make snow or to make grass green. The golf pro also doubles as a ski equipment expert when the snow flies. The kitchens serve up a cool summer salad as easily as a bowl of chili in the wintertime, and the cocktail lounges concoct an icy Tom Collins or a hot buttered rum, dependent on the outside temperature.

In the past six years, Kircher has built three new 18-hole championship golf courses — the already world-renowned Boyne Highlands Robert Trent Jones 18-hole championship course, the Boyne Mountain 18-hole Alpine championship golf course, and two years ago the new "Moor" 18-hole championship golf course at the Highlands.

THERE ALSO ARE tidy but very tricky executive 9-hole golf courses at both Boyne Highlands and Boyne Mountain, made to order for the emerging golfer. That's more than enough variety to put a smile on any titleist, and all within a 25-mile radius.

Liberties have been taken with the Boyne courses' basic design to lift them out of the ordinary. Every hole, whether it be on the championship or the executive 9-hole, is a challenge. Usual and expected course design is ignored so that they emerge not as the type of course a player would want to shoot every day, but would be inclined to reserve playing as a special treat.

Of the three championship courses, Boyne Highlands features the Robert Trent Jones 18-hole championship course which he vows is one of the top 10 golf courses in the world. It plays 7,200 yards from the back tees and four separate and distinct tee positions. Even at the 5500-yard markers, golfers find it a challenge to avoid the many traps, water hazards, roughs and trees...and to master the huge, rolling, beautifully-manicured greens.

Boyne Mountain presents the unique Alpine championship course designed by Bill Newcombe. It's destined to rival the Highlands course for world fame.

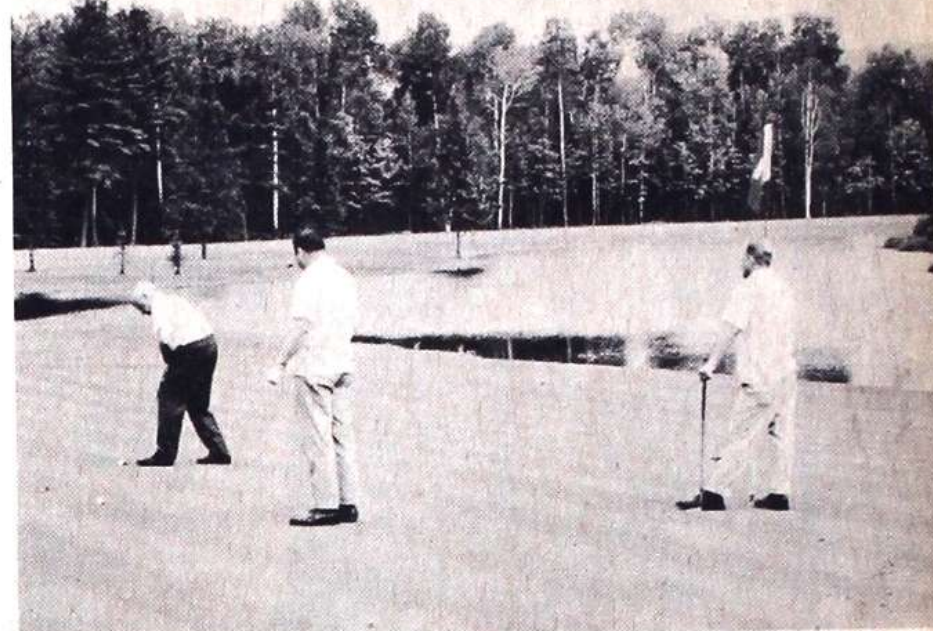

PLAYING FROM elevated tees, it winds continuously down the west side of Boyne Mountain from the first tee to the 18th green at the new beach and tennis club on the shores of Deer Lake. The vertical drop is 650 feet but no climbing is involved — distance from championship tees is again 7,200 yards. The golf cart trail up the mountain to the first tee is a nature trail and vistas of the course offer delightful panoramas between holes of the lakes, ponds, bunkers and other hazards which combine to make the Alpine a golfing treat.

The new 18-hole championship "Moor" course at Boyne Highlands, completed in 1972, is one of the most interesting experiments in golf course architecture and design found anywhere, a golfer said.

Carved from virgin land directly north and adjacent to the already-famous Jones course, the Moor will join with the old Jones course and offer golfers the choice of three courses by combining nine holes of each course.

The Moor course has all of the features and drama of the Jones course and introduces double tee positions, double fairways, and even double greens on several of the holes, to the golfing world.

THIS MEANS that a serious golfer is able to select strategy and routes of play according to his abilities, thereby formulating a program of constant, graduated improvement.

GOLFER'S PARADISE—Western Wayne County residents who are looking for a quality golf course, might think about golfing in the Boyne Country region up North. There are 72 holes of golf from the first of May to the first of November, backdropped two hotels at Boyne Falls.

Boyne resorts boast of tennis facilities

The tennis boom is on. Private tennis clubs are popping up by the thousands, open at daybreak, closing only long enough to launder the towels. And it's still tough to get court time. Public court times are near impossible to get as well. It seems the only way to get on is to quit your job and hang around the fence until an out-of-condition older player gets a heart attack and you can jump into the vacancy.

Yet, there is a place where cool Northern Michigan breezes blow a pine sprig or two over nearly-always-empty championship grass courts and hard-surface courts.

THESE COURTS, Mid-America's best-kept tennis secret, are skillfully hidden at the Boyne Country resorts of Boyne Mountain, Boyne Falls, Boyne Highlands and Harbor Springs, tucked away in northwestern Lower Michigan.

At Boyne Mountain's "Camp David" executive retreat, tennis is not the king, but rather, golf is. Chuck Moll, managing director of Boyne Country, boasts daily of the championship Alpine golf course with 18 holes winding "enthrall" through the hardwood forests, orchards, ponds and lakes and down the mountain to the final holes on the shores of beautiful Deer Lake.

This is where the golf finishes and tennis begins in a cluster of magnificent, manicured grass and hard-surface courts within 20 yards of the new Boyne Country Villas, described Moll.

The luxury villas overlook Deer Lake which is excellent for swimming, sailing, fishing, golf and tennis.

THE RECENTLY-completed villas offer one whole floor to the family which rents it, said Moll.

The two-bedroom apartments, each with its own private bath and shower, feature complete privacy plus a spacious living room provided with color television and a sofa which folds down into another bed (meaning that each Villa offers sleeping comfort for up to eight persons). There's also a complete kitchen with bar facilities, Moll added.

Shuffleboard is also nearby and a large patio with plenty of sunshine, an exclusive gourmet dining room, and sunbathing is available for the wives and children who would rather rest and relax on the sandy beach, he said.

And it is no less grand at Boyne Highlands, where the grass and hard-surface championship courts are neatly tucked into the base of the imposing Norman-Tudor-style lodge. Here, too, golf rules the roost with two of the finest 18-hole championship golf courses in the nation, boasted Moll — the Robert Trent Jones and the "Moor" course directly, to the north of the Lodge and well away from the tennis courts.

ACCOMMODATIONS include a new 80-room wing addition which features European-type and executive suites. Tennis package plans are available which can be combined with golf.

John Zarafonitis, originally of Ann Arbor, is the tennis pro for Boyne Country. He came there after three years as the assistant pro at the Monte Carlo Tennis Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco, under the famed pro Stanley Singer.

Zarafonitis toured the Riviera circuit in 1968 and won tournaments at Menton, France, and San Remo, Italy. During the tour, he was victorious over Davis Cup players of four nations and has achieved high ranking among eastern and middle states players in the United States. He was a captain and four-year letterman of the powerful Dickinson College team and set a school victories record.

In youth physical fitness

YMCA accepts registration program

The Wayne-Westland YMCA is taking registrations for its fall pre-school physical fitness program. Three and four year olds are eligible for the classes which strive to give every child attending a well-rounded physical program.

Physical development is an important part of every child's growth. The "Y's" program encourages the youngsters to develop balance, rhythm, and coordination at their own rate, a "Y" spokesman said.

The program has been revised to include more flexibility and creativity. Children will move between four different kinds of activity:

(1) Large muscle activity including trampoline, tumbling mats, balance beams, tunnel;

(2) Small-muscle and creative activity including clay, finger paints, brush painting, play doh, paste and scissors;

(3) Construction — blocks and wooden puzzles and

(4) general muscle coordination through creative play.

Music and games aid in achieving inter-group activity during the time the children come together. The atmosphere is one of a fun place to be. Juice and cookies are served daily.

The "Y" program is one more step up the growth ladder helping pre-schoolers use what they have learned at home in a wider community, the spokesman said.

Classes are held twice a week for an eight-week program cycle. Class I is on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9:30-11:20 a.m. and Class II is held on Tuesday and Thursday morning at the same time. The fee is $25 for "Y" members and $30 for non-"Y" members.

Call the YMCA at 721-7044 for further information.

The YMCA Romulus Cooperative pre-school fitness staff at Oakbrook Townhouse will be Mrs. Mary Nikolich and Mrs. Margaret Ogden.

Mothers participate in the program three times during 16 sessions.

Registration set for adult classes

Registrations for Romulus adult education classes begins today. Registration locations include the board of education offices, 36540 Grant Rd. from 9am-4pm and the senior high, 9650 S. Wayne Rd. from 7-9 p.m. weekdays through Sept. 14.

The fall schedule of classes is being delivered to all Romulus homes by the Romulus Jaycees, who also are distributing the new editions of the Jaycee City Directory. Residents who have not yet received either of the brochures are asked to call the adult education offices, 941-1600.

The adult education programs include free credit classes to adults who have yet to graduate from high school. A special assortment of non-credit hobby classes are also offered to area residents for a small tuition fee.

OTHER ACTIVITIES available to adults include driver's training, classes at Kelsey-Hayes, Wayne County

Community College courses, GED preparation classes and testing, adult learn-to-read classes and a class in English for the foreign-born.

Van Buren police issue 48 tickets

The Van Buren Township Police Department's personnel issued 48 traffic violation tickets during the month of August, Police Chief John R. Willet Sr. recently told township officials.

Of the tickets issued by police officers, 34 violations were processed and paid at the township's violations bureau.

The operation of the department's radar equipment resulted in the issuance of 36 speeding tickets in August, Willet said.

During the month department's police crews spent 426 man-road hours.

Local schools get free films

Educational films to be shown during the 1973-74 school year in Wayne County's 36 local districts will be provided by the intermediate school district on a no rental charge basis.

The Wayne County Intermediate School District in a cooperative agreement with the Wayne County Federated Library System, has completed arrangements to offer the public schools in Wayne County free film service.

Wayne County Federated Library System's Film Library (3,000 films) is being made available on a free basis to Wayne County's public schools in Wayne County's 36 local school districts, including Detroit.

Effective Saturday, the Wayne County Intermediate School District will reimburse the Audio-Visual Division of the Wayne County Library for the cost of providing films to local school districts.

To obtain the free rental service, the intermediate school district is requesting that each school district designate a local school district audio-visual coordinator.

The following school districts have already designated their free film district representative: Mary Rievert — Cherry Hill School

Church holds family picnic

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville will hold its annual family potluck picnic at 1 p.m. Friday at the Elwoods Park area in Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

District: Thomas Risto — Garden City Public Schools; Lee Goodney — Huron School District; Bertha M. Green — Plymouth Community School District; Emerson Frey — Romulus Community Schools; M. Bruce McLaren — Wayne-Westland Community Schools and David Smigielski — Westwood Community School District.

In addition to the federated library's extensive film collection, new films have been purchased by the intermediate district to provide local districts with a wide range of educational subjects.

A few examples of the newer films being added to the free collection are the following: "Macrame," "Big Red Barn," "Young Goodman Brown," "Wavelength of Light," "Why Things Float," "Afro-American Music" and "Maria of the Pueblos."

The feature Sarah Klein likes most about her new Gas dryer doesn't even use Gas.

In fact, it helps her conserve Gas. It's her permanent press cycle. Ten minutes of nothing but fresh, fluffing air on her permanent press clothes—to keep the wrinkles from setting in. This saves Sarah all kinds of ironing, all kinds of Gas, and all kinds of money. No wonder it's her favorite feature.

But there's much more to appreciate in today's modern Gas dryers. Improved insulation and more precise controls mean even less fuel consumed, and even more money saved. And a Gas dryer operates for about one-fourth the cost of operating an electric one.

So, when you think about replacing your old dryer, think about a new Gas dryer with the permanent press cycle and other money-saving features. Various size models are now on display at Gas appliance dealers and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

And, whether you purchase a new dryer or use your present one, here are a few good tips for increasing its operating efficiency: (1) Keep the dryer's lint filter clean. (2) Avoid overdrying your clothing. (3) Keep the dryer's flue clear of lint accumulations. (4) Don't forget to follow the manufacturer's proper operating instructions.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

Tomorrow's Forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an interesting day and evening. Changes just around the corner are coming into view and give you an indication of what you can do to quicken the activity. You will become aware of the additional information you need to succeed.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You now know what is expected of you by associates and can quietly state your own expectations so there is more cooperation in the future. Many situations break now so you know what to do about civic duties.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Being more cooperative with co-workers improves production and benefits. Make your surroundings more charming by using that artistic Venusian quality you have. Use more courtesy with mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stepping out with good friends for the recreation you want is good now. First be sure to handle important obligations. Don't cause enmity between a close tie and another, or you are the loser. Don't stay out too late in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try a new approach with those at home so more harmonious relations result. Do some entertaining with a sincere heart so you please your guests. Dress in fine style.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Much contact with regular associates can bring new friends of value into your life, as well as new ideas that are worthwhile. Put a new idea into operation quickly with the aid of fellow workers. Try not to impose on another.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle those outstanding responsibilities quickly instead of procrastinating and haggling over them. A little self-sacrifice for mate can bring fine results now. Show you are a master at your craft.

FRAMES LIVEN WALLS — Large frame of western wood, smaller frame of surrounding free-form sculpture, decorative "windows" of framing colored glass over bench help brighten two-story wall facing entry patio. Wall siding is rough-sawn western cedar boards; bench seat is fir with facing.

Use wood sculpture

Liven entry , patios

Entry courts and patios often offer opportunities for brightening large expanses of walls with wood or metal sculpture and lessening the visual scale with decorative wood frames attached to the walls.

Older two-story houses, new split-levels and townhouses often have tall, wide walls that will benefit from such an application and the expense, time and effort involved can be quite small.

The entry court of one suburban townhouse presented a tall wall paneled with lightly stained western cedar rough-sawn boards and facing the doorway and living room windows.

THE VERTICAL lines of the boards, plus their grain and texture made a handsome wall, but the unbroken height did little to enhance the intimacy of the protected court, and otherwise charming sitting area.

A vertical, rectangular frame of one by two - inch western wood surrounding a free-form sculpture was added near the center of the wall, minimizing the height by supplying interest near normal eye-level.

Shelves holding a grouping of potted plants can be substituted for a sculpture, if the wall doesn't face a too-hot sun in the afternoon, and if the plants can be watered without staining the board siding.

A larger horizontal frame of one by four-inch boards was attached to the wall, several feet in from the ends, three feet up from the ground and five feet from roof line, again visually shrinking the wall's dimensions.

WESTERN PINE, fir, spruce or hemlock all are well-suited for this use, and are easily stained or painted a darker color to lend contrast.

A bench of two by two-inch fir with two by four facing was added along the wall. Three one by three foot "windows" behind the bench were made of colored decorative glass framed with one by twos and attached directly to the wall.

Planter boxes built onto the bench and shrubs and other plantings in a strip edging the aggregate patio add color to the area and help soften the board fence separating units.

Energy waste costs plenty

The heating and cooling of buildings requires about one sixth of the total energy expended in the United States. Much of this energy is wasted because buildings are so poorly insulated that heat is lost in winter and air conditioning equipment runs overtime in summer.

This applies to most older homes and commercial buildings, and surprisingly, occurs in many new structures as well, the researchers find.

WASTED ENERGY may cost the nation as much as two billion dollars annually.

Insulation specialists point out that such things as better home insulation, storm windows and more efficient heating and cooling units can greatly reduce fuel costs. Savings can amount to over $100 a year in the average size home.

It is estimated 50 percent of homes 15 years old or older have no insulation at all and nearly all homes are inadequately insulated by today's standards.

As with almost everything else, fuel costs for the consumer have been rising and are expected to continue in the future. Fuel economists predict that the price for gas, electricity and heating oil will increase at an annual average rate of about eight percent. At this rate, fuel prices will double in ten years.

HERE ARE SOME recommendations from the specialists on how consumers can lower fuel and air conditioning costs and at the same time do their bit to cut down on air pollution.

—Use weather stripping, wherever necessary.
—Make sure your house is well caulked. (Heat loss from "air leakage" can easily account for 15-20 percent of the family's heating bill.)

—Check insulation. Attics should have a six inch layer of good insulation, and walls three and one-half inches. Floors located over "crawl spaces" also need three and one-half inches.

The researchers say solar energy is perhaps 25 years in the future. In the meantime, they suggest we should do what we can to conserve conventional energy...and in the process, save some money.

New sources being sought

Saving energy at home important it takes only a few minutes and a few simple preparations to "winterize" a house, make sure the furnace is operating properly, and keep the home heating system operating efficiently throughout the cold weather.

Lack of insulation is a major cause of heat loss, an uncomfortable "cold" house, and high fuel bills.

Since heat rises, cracks and crevices under the roof are usually responsible for the greatest heat loss.

IF THE ATTIC is not insulated, a four inch thickness of insulating material placed between the rafters provided an adequate insulation. Insulation placed between the overhead joists or tacked inside the roof, also saves heat.

If cold drafts are entering through corners, windows, doors or other areas, seal the doors.

Each day, the average American family uses double the amount of energy it used in the 1950's, and 12 times more energy than the average world energy consumption.

The major forms of energy now used are fossil fuels - natural gas, coal and oil - and these energy sources are non-renewable. New sources are being sought, but that takes time.

To help conserve existing reserves of natural gas, coal and oil, to provide valuable time for government and industry to research and develop future sources, and to minimize the rising cost of energy, the natural gas industry is urging consumers to practice fuel efficiency.

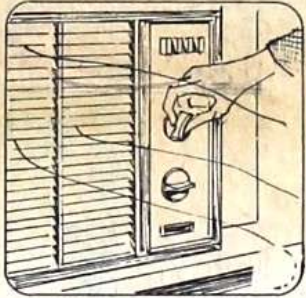

THE AVERAGE consumer should be able to conserve energy and reduce utility fuel bills during the winter heating season.

The industry has found that

A window or door can be tightly sealed by a roll of felt or metal stripping.

An annual check of the heating system will insure that warm air is not being lost before it reaches the "living areas" of the house. Radiators, grills, vents, and registers should be free of obstructions, turned on and producing heat.

CUT FUEL BILL — Here are four ways the experts say homeowners can cut fuel bills efficiently. (1.) Use weather stripping wherever necessary. (2.) Make sure your house is well caulked around windows, doors, etc.—anywhere "air leakage" can occur. (3.) Insulate the attic floor. This can save up to $100 in yearly fuel bills. (4.) Run air conditioners at a comfortable level — don't "over-cool."

Mobile home living book available

Free copies of two 1973 publications for those considering mobile home living in Michigan are available.

"Facts On Mobile Home Selection" is a 16-page booklet copyrighted by the Council of Better Business Bureaus and the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association.

Every page has information the consumer needs when considering purchasing a mobile home. Included is data on types of mobile homes, sizes, standards, warranties, plus a double page title the "Mobile Home Buyers Check List."

The other publication is a folder titled "Flash Facts," a pocket reference to the Mobile Home Industry.

The publications are particularly useful to the person who is interested in mobile home living but who needs an introduction to the entire subject, according to Robert Pelkey, executive director of the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreation Vehicle Institute (MMHRVI).

For free copies of the publications, send a self-addressed envelope with 16 cents postage to the MMHRVI, 19045 Farmington Road, Livonia 48152.

Area legislator to sponsor public officials conduct bill

An area legislator said he will sponsor a bill to the Michigan House of Representatives to regulate the conduct and activities of public officials and employees.

State Rep. Gary Owen (R-Van Buren) said: "This bill is part of several being introduced concerning the ethics of state officials.

"Recent events which have left questions in the minds of the citizens of this state have prompted me to sponsor this legislation. Commonly referred to as the 'Public Disclosure Bill,' this bill would require the disclosure of all economic interests of public officials and their families." "Under the provisions of the bill, all public officials would have to submit a written statement describing the ethics commission," the Democrat said. "The ethics commission is created through the bill to make the rules and police the act. Gifts to public officials also will be forbidden if the bill becomes law."

The legislation covers all elected public officials, plus those appointed who earn more than $10,000 annually.

The official would have to disclose all economic interests held by him or a member of his household, Owen said. In addition, all creditors to whom he owes money in excess of $1,000 would have to be listed. This information would be made available to the public on demand through the ethics commission.

"I feel it is very important to pass reform election legislation such as this in order to restore the faith of the people in our elected and appointed officials," Owen said. I believe this bill will be an aid to ending the tarnished faith of these citizens and voters."

Building activities in Van Buren Township during the month of August turned sharply upward, according to a monthly report issued by the township's building department.

The building department issued 41 residential permits and three commercial building permits for a total estimated construction cost of $2,999,378. This compares with 30 permits and $161,577 construction costs in July.

Three building permits issued for the construction of a K-mart Store, a Chatham Supermarket and retail stores in the township's new shopping center underway at Rawsonville Road and the I-94 Expressway accounted for $2,633,550 of the August construction cost total.

Residential building costs during August amounted to $365,828. The total building fees collected by the department were $7,388.50.

The electrical division of the building department issued 35 permits and collected $369 in fees.

The heating division issued 27 permits and collected $269 in fees. The plumbing division issued 15 permits and collected $334 in fees.

Rec commission elects officers

The Van Buren Township Recreation Commission has elected new officers.

Named at a recent meeting of the commission were: Chairman Larry Boelter; Vice-Chairman Kenneth Askew and Secretary and Treasurer William Chizmar. Other members of the recreation commission are: Glenn Barker, Fred Comen, who also is a member of the township board; Mrs. June Miller, Raymond Florian and Mrs. Eunice Kause.

Van Buren planners OK ice rink plans

Site plans for Van Buren Township's proposed $600,000 ice rink facility with revisions received the approval of the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The proposed ice hockey arena, the first for the township, is to be built on a 10-acre land parcel located at the northwest corner of the Bemis-Sumpter Road intersection.

Required rezoning for the project already has received the approval of both the township board and planning commission.

The Belleville Arena Inc., developer of the ice hockey arena, consists of a group of five investors.

Thomas C. Mason, head of the investment group, of 43020 Riggs Ave., Belleville, Wednesday presented the site plans to the planning commission.

The revisions include a moving back of the project's building from the west side lot line and also moving the proposed parking lot. All drives and parking lots must be paved, sidewalks must be five feet wide and lighting must be shielded.

In addition sidewalks must be 660 feet long or the entire width of the property.

Preps kick off '73 grid season

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

The playing starts for keeps Friday night as Belleville, Romulus and New Boston Huron embrace to meet nonleague rivals.

Belleville expects a record crowd for its opening game against Dearborn Heights Robichaud, a team that always is tough on the Tigers, while Romulus will travel to Muskegon Heights and Huron head for Milan.

ROBICHAUD, which has a couple of the fastest halfbacks in the state in its offensive backfield in West Jones, the Class B state 100-yard dash champ, and James Hall, could cause the Tigers headaches if the visitors manage to break these players loose.

"They (Robichaud) always have some exceptional athletes with a lot of ability and speed," said Belleville

Coach Keith Emerson, "and if we make some mistakes and don't contain them, it could be disastrous for us."

"We are not anywhere close to them in over-all team speed, so if we let someone break away, we're not going to catch them," he said.

Robichaud and Belleville have split in their only two confrontations on the gridiron and this will be the "rubber match."

EMERSON said he would probably use Otty Turrentine and Bill Kinsella at the offensive end slots and Mike Hughes and Art Myers as tackles while Tom Vacek and Matt Byrnes will get the nod as the starting guards.

Anchoring the line will be center David Egnor.

The Tiger offensive machine will again be guided by Gary VanBuhler. He'll have fullback Bruce Ford, tailback Hubert Russel and flanker Lee Stiltner in the backfield.

DEFENSIVELY, Belleville will probably use Gary Adkins and Don LaFramboise as ends, Hughes and Mark Ostrowski as tackles and Medley, Turrentine, Vacek and Myers as linebackers.

The safety is Ford and Mark Verrot and Joe Stillwagon are slated to see duty as defensive halfbacks.

The Tigers got a couple of scrimmages in last week and

Emerson said he was pleased with the over-all performance of his team.

"We looked good in scrimmages, but we have a lot of loose ends to tie together," Emerson said, "I was impressed with our defense and offensively VanBuhler moved the ball and threw well."

"However, we do need to work on our pass defense and clear up some of the other mistakes that lead to useless penalties," he said.

Strike doesn't stop grid teams

By TOM MOORADIAN

When a history or math teacher or most any other teacher goes out on strike, a high school football coach told me a couple of weeks ago, he really doesn't lose as much as when a football coach goes out.

The football coach argued that the history teacher could make up for lost time, while the football coach and his players could never make up that time.

Now, six area prep football coaches are faced with the possibility that their seasons will be shortened because of teachers' strikes in their respective school districts. Those coaches are Gary Humphrey (Garden City East), Bob Draheim (Garden City West), Arnie C. James (Inkster) and Jim Stallings (Romulus), Ken Kaestner (Livonia Churchill) and George Lovich (Livonia Franklin).

All six coaches realize that there is a particular Michigan High School Athletic Association rule that states, in part, prep teams must practice 15 days in succession (not counting holidays and weekends) to be eligible to play their first game.

AT ROMULUS team captains have taken over the role of coaches. But no one knows how long that will last. Says Stallings: "It would be a shame for the kids to be hurt after they have worked so hard all these weeks and in this hot weather. We're hoping that this thing will be resolved as soon as possible."

Apparently the Garden City board of education and the Garden City Education Association, which represents the teachers in that school district have found a working formula that will not hurt the football players during the strike.

"So far the board and GCEA have understood the coaches and players' positions and are keeping the kids and our program in mind," said Humphrey, "they're allowing us to stick with our team."

"And, of course, I'm really happy about it," Humphrey said.

DRAHEIM also was pleased with "the enlightened stand taken by both the school administration and the GCEA."

"During such times as these you hear a great deal of verbiage from both sides about what's best for the kids and I'm pleased as a person who is honestly interested in kids to see the enlightened position that has been taken by the school administration and the GCEA."

"Obviously if either side had ordered the cessation of athletics the only ones who would be hurt would be the athletes. As of this evening my principal, Mr. Niland, has informed me that we have the legal backing from the administration to run our football program."

"The only stipulation made by the administration is we can't utilize school buildings or facilities during the regular school hours," the West High coach said.

Draheim pointed out that the GCEA also has given the green light to practice, recognizing the unique situation as coaches.

"I'm very pleased about it," Draheim added.

Draheim said he was once involved in a teachers' strike at Flint Central a few years back and "we were ordered out by both sides and nobody suffered except the athletes."

FROM PERSONAL experience we learned that actions and reactions to strikers and administrations have a lot to do with the length of a strike. The longer the strike, the greater the hostility.

Let's hope that the strikes are resolved quickly and without malice. For, if they are not, then the problems occur and the language isn't as gentle.

IT IS A GOOD YEAR — With a crop of experienced lettermen returning to the Belleville football lineup, the Tigers appear to have just the right mixture of talent and power to move up in the Suburban 8 'conference' standings. Coach Keith Emerson feels his Tigers will be strong contenders if "things go right, and we can make them do so!" Out to prove

Romulus opens at Muskegon

Scores are deceptive. Take, for example, Romulus' 32-8 victory over Muskegon Heights last year. The score doesn't say that the Heights gave the Eagles a rough time for the first half before Romulus came back to overpower their visitors.

And Friday, night Romulus will return the visit, but first year Coach Jim Stallings doesn't see anything easy about the game.

"Muskegon Heights has a good team that likes to hit," Stallings said, "we had a tough time with them here last year but they made some errors and we capitalized on them."

"To beat them we won't be able to afford any mistakes," he added.

STALLINGS, who replaced Bill Hardy as head coach, said he and his staff have overhauled the entire team.

"We just weren't clicking, so we had to make some changes," he said.

One of those changes was to move runningback Bradley

Smith to the quarterback slot, a position his brother, Vergil, was articulate in last year. That moved shoved Herbie Miller back into his specialty, defensive halfback where he had lettered three years. Miller also will handle an offensive halfback slot.

"We needed some help in the secondary. We were hurting, so Miller just had to go back and do the job again," the Eagle mentor said.

Smith will be working with fullback Roy Hollis, and halfbacks Larry Courtney and Miller.

Romulus got a taste of what it can expect from well-drilled teams over the weekend when the Eagles took on Detroit Northwestern and Redford in a three-way scrimmage.

"Our kids learned what it's really like to get hit," related Stallings. "Northwestern has had a 15-day training camp and its boys were really ready. They stopped us cold."

However, Stallings was satisfied with his team's defense which reciprocated, thwarting the Colts' ballcarriers. Stallings singled out Michael Hunter, a three-year letterman at linebacker, Rudy Williams, cornerback, Michael Wade and Henry Reid, both guards, for their excellent performances.

"OUR KIDS have had to make some adjustments because they are looking at a new slate of coaches," said Stallings, "and I feel that the transition is now over with."

Stallings brought in all new assistants when he took over the head coaching job. They have installed the Wishbone and it has taken some time before the players caught on.

Though hampered by the tension of a teachers' strike in the Romulus School District, the team is ready for its opener, according to its coach.

"The strike won't stop us," said Stallings, "the Romulus Education Association (REA) and board of education have agreed to let us continue with our practices and play our schedule even though the strike isn't resolved."

"We're really fortunate."

Ex-Romulus gridder teams with ex-coach

ALLEDALE, MICH. — Grand Valley State College has never won a varsity football game, compiling a dismal 0-12 record in two seasons of varsity competition.

The 1973 Lakers are expected to reverse that figure somewhat, and, should they accomplish this, chances are good that two graduates of the Romulus High School gridiron program will have played a major role in the Grand Valley resurgence.

BILL HARDY, the popular head football coach at Romulus High School in 1972, resigned last spring to become defensive coordinator at Grand Valley. Daryl Gooden, a 6'1", 210 pound linebacker who played for Hardy last year, is one of several fine freshmen contending for positions on the Laker defensive unit.

Gooden is faced with the difficult task of cracking a unit that includes three senior linebackers in Mike Karasinski from Cedar Springs, Paul Griffith and Tim Schoen, both from Grand Rapids.

Nonetheless, the rugged freshman has impressed members of the Laker coaching staff with his attitude and desire, and much is expected of him.

Hardy assesses Gooden's prospects as follows: Daryl suffered a pulled hamstring early, and recovery from this injury has hampered his progress. He has also experienced the usual problems of adjustment from high school to college ball, but we're confident that eventually he will become an outstanding performer."

Grand Valley opens the 1973 season on September 15 against Kalamazoo College

Milan is 1st test for Huron gridders

"Strangers in the Night" --- that's what New Boston and Milan will be Friday night when the two nonleague football teams meet for the first time on the gridiron.

"We have never played them before," said Huron mentor Jim Rossow who will be launching his second season as head coach, "but we have heard that they are a well-disciplined team that hits real well and plays basic football."

"However, there are also small numbers - only 21 players out for the team," said Rossow.

The Chiefs' strategist was able to dig up Milan's last year record. It was winning 5-4 mark. Huron wound up 4-5 in 1972.

"I know we will be ready for them on Friday," Rossow added.

ROSSOW SAID scrimmages against Lincoln Park, St. Agatha and Walled Lake Western have paid off. He added there were some good signs and bad ones.

"Our offense was fairly good, but it was a little ragged," he admitted, "and I liked the way our quarterback

Tim Hinojosa handled himself, and Bill Grover (tackle) and Jeff Hessler (safety) were other bright spots, but there were things we have to tighten up."

One of the spots that is due for an overhaul is the Chiefs' secondary which was described as "terrible" by the coach.

"We need a lot of work in the secondary," admitted Rossow, "it just can't remain like that."

Huron, which has a nine-game schedule, will make its home debut on Sept. 21 when the Chiefs will take on one of the pre-season Huron Conference favorites, Monroe Catholic Central.

Monroe is eyeing the league throne presently occupied by Tecumseh.

Panel of Experts is ready

A football season without the "Panel of Experts?"

Never.

There are plenty of prognosticators around who are eager to gaze into the crystal ball and predict the outcome of high school, collegiate and professional football games, and they'll be ready with their predictions, as always, this season.

This year's learned Panel will be made up of such prominent second guessers as Sports Editor Tom Mooradian, who was the top prognosticator last year.

Joining Mooradian on the Panel will be veterans Bert Ostenberg, Henry Cantin and Jim Carravallah.

Also, Robert Knoske, Robert Prokop, David Sheppard, Mitch Kehetian and Dale Gowing will be making their initial appearances on the Panel.

So, if you want the inside information on which area team is going to win - before the game is even played - keep your eye on The Panel.

93 teams set to begin 32nd CYO campaign

The Catholic Youth Organization's grade school boys football league will open its 32nd campaign during the week of Sept. 23 with an enrollment of 93 teams from Detroit and 46 adjacent communities.

Athletic director Frank Connolly estimates that the league will have more than 3,500 boys under contract before the season starts.

The oldest and biggest scholastic grid league in Michigan will play a seven-game schedule, ending competition during the week of Nov. 4. Teams will bid for championship trophies in 13 divisions.

MAXIMUM weight for the league is 146 pounds in full uniform excluding helmets. Players become ineligible on their 15th birthday. All teams are completely equipped, they play under the supervision of adult coaches and each of their league games is handled by two paid officials. Teams play eight-minute quarters.

Connolly has inaugurated several rules changes over the years, most of them designed to offer more protection to the players and to give a greater number of youngsters a chance to compete.

Monroe CC's Mathews to coach at Huron

Mike Mathews, a coach without a track who forged championship cross country teams out of the talent he assembled at Monroe Catholic Central has been named as the head track and cross country coach at New Boston Huron High School.

Mathews, 26, replaces Keith Reed, who left the position to become the assistant track coach at the University of Toledo.

However, Reed remains as a teacher at Huron.

Mathews got a taste of what he's up against Saturday as the new Chief's coach cross country contingent finished 16 out of a field of 17 teams at the West Bloomfield Invitational.

ROYAL OAK Shrine and Linden, last year's Class B runnerup in the state, finished first and second, respectively.

"Our boys ran as good as expected," said Mathews, "we know that we have a lot of work ahead of us."

Huron's top finisher was senior Tim Bilbrey who was 47th while teammates Melvin Sheets crossed the finish line 60th.

A graduate of Monroe CC, Mathews returned to his alma mater in 1969 after graduating from the University of Detroit with a degree in management science.

WORKING without a track Mathews managed to win the Huron Conference cross country title the last two years and also the track championships three of the five years he was with Monroe.

Why the move?

"We didn't have a track at Catholic Central and Huron has a six-lane all-weather facility," said Mathews, "and, also I was athletic director at Monroe CC, therefore, didn't have all the time I wanted to coach. At Huron, I won't have to split my time."

Married to Cindy, the Mathews have one child, Beth.

Teachers attend workshop to offer held to children

Personnel from Harrison Elementary School recently completed a pre-school workshop. Teachers from the kindergarten and first grade classrooms worked all week on plans to give special help to children who are having learning difficulties.

The staff met with Mrs. Lorena Burton, director of state and federal programs, and Art McPharlin, principal of Harrison School, to set general guidelines and objectives for the year.

Special emphasis will center around para-professional teachers, a volunteer mother program, additional staff and material help. Six para-professionals will be hired to assist the six classroom teachers with clerical help, small group reinforcement and coordination of the volunteer parents visitation program.

The program for mothers will encourage parents to visit and assist the staff once a month on a rotating basis. This will provide the opportunity for parents to understand the curriculum, get to know the teacher better and see her child in the school setting, according to Mrs. Burton.

The additional staff and material help will provide important time for each teacher to give personal assistance to each child assigned to her class.

Mich. traffic accidents cause 182 deaths

Michigan traffic accidents in August caused 182 deaths, 28 or about 13 per cent less than the 210 reported for the same month last year, according to provisional figures of the state police traffic division.

The toll also was 44 less than the average of 226 for August in the five years 1968-72. The high mark for August was set in 1969 with 254 while the low of 67 was recorded in wartime in 1943.

August was the fourth month this year to show a decrease in deaths compared with corresponding months of 1972. Other declines were noted in February, April and May.

The accumulated deaths for the first eight months this year number 1,476, which is six more than the total of 1,470 counted in the same period in 1972.

Labor Day weekend deaths provisionally number 24, compared with the final count of 33 for the holiday period in 1972.

Michigan last year. Reports of delayed deaths will increase somewhat the counts for August, the accumulated period and the holiday weekend.

DATSUN SAVES
About a gallon of gasoline a day
With the demand for fuel rising faster than the supply, here's one way to help ease our energy crisis. According to the latest U.S. Bureau of Highway figures, the national average for gas mileage is about 13.5 miles per gallon. The new Datsun 1200 gets around 30 miles per gallon or over twice the national average. The average car in the U.S. is driven just over 10,000 miles a year, so you can save about a gallon of gas every day by driving a 1200. With gasoline prices going up, it's a considerable saving of another important resource - your money. Drive a Datsun - then decide.

Serbay Datsun
34 E. Mich., Ypsilanti 482-8850
Maybe it's time to do something about high gasoline prices.

Like buy a car that doesn't use much.
The Volkswagen holds only about 5 pints (not quarts) of oil and 10.4 gallons of gas, full up. You almost never need to add oil and you can expect to get over 20 miles per gallon of regular.
If you're upset about soaring gas and oil prices and haven't been able to get any satisfaction...try your Volkswagen dealer.
SUBURBAN VOLKSWAGEN
2867 Washtenaw, Ypsilanti 434-3300

Are we being too greedy?

We want to sell you every car you'll ever buy. In order to get your business, we have to offer you more. So we offer you more car, more warranty, more of everything for a lower cost. That way we figure you come back again and again.
If you think we're greedy, look at our prices. Then look at everybody else's. Especially during this...
Greedy Sale
It's about time a car dealer delivered more than just a car.
